MAKES A SPLASH IN HOLLYWOOD

10:28

Why guilt?

Boston Comes Alive

BOSTON

Do you think the school is attractive?

Not exactly.

It's here, dull as ever.

Compared to what?

It's o.k., for a school.

What has been your greatest problem here?

The boys.

Passing the courses.

The cliques.

The 6th period runs from 5th period.

Lack of interest.

How does it feel to be a senior?

Excellent.

No different than a junior.

Like a king.

How do you like Scituate High?

I don't.

I love it, it's a country club.

It's a farce.

I like it alot. It's not the school, it's the people and the activities.

I like Scituate High as much as my mother.

What do you think of Coed gym?

Mr. Hazell's cute.

The physical progress of young men is deterred by girls.

I love it.

No bargain.

I really don't like it because the girls get crunched.

It's a change.

What do you think of Caf B?

It's disgusting, especially with dogs begging for food.

I think Caf B is relaxing.

It's a hole.

Caf B is overcrowded at lunch.

It's a good place to be.

When you graduate, will you be prepared?

I am now.

Yes, I hope so.

I doubt it.

For what?

I have no idea.

How do you dress for school?

Fully.

Casually, comfortably, and decently.

High society.

It depends on my mood. Sometime dressy, other times in jeans.

As quickly as possible.

SENIOR BOOSTER CLUB

This club is for seniors who wish to boost spirit in the school and community. Their main activity is cooking and selling food at the home football games. The money is raised for scholarships and school athletics. Frozen extremities and candy apple burns are part of the Booster weekend routine. Members are chosen by the previous year's club on the basis of involvement in extra-curricular activities.

YEARBOOK

The Scituate High School "Chimes" staff is composed of seniors who wish to participate in the planning and production of the annual yearbook. This is a club that involves a continual demand for time, effort, and creativity. This year, it was common to find staff members munching out in the wee hours of the morning, with their advisor, Janet Beacham, while striving to meet the next deadline. Lawrence McGonagle, financial advisor, is in charge of the sale of the book.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The Scituate Chapter of the American Field Service is an organization for students who wish to broaden their outlook on people and culture as well as their outlook on themselves. This year students from Japan and Norway are attending the High School. The club's activities include slide shows, international parties, and fund raising projects.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is for students who have exhibited outstanding character, service, scholarship, and leadership during their four years at Scituate High School.

COLDBROOK

Coldbrook names the student literary magazine at Scituate High School. The staff and their advisor, Miss Doyle, offer an outlet for students interested in journalism. Samples of exceptional student prose, poetry, and artwork are published in the club's three seasonal editions.

LANGUAGE CLUB

The language club is designed for the student interested in foreign culture and language.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Scituate High School Student Council is a governing organization, consisting of forty students, ten representatives from each class, and their advisor, Mr. Stuart. The council acts as a communicatory body, trying to bridge the gap between the students and faculty, to better the school community. This year's activities included Homecoming Week, A Senior Citizens' Christmas Dinner, Modular Day, and various attempts at money making.

ADVISORY COUNCIL

The advisory council is a group of students representing the student body to the School Committee. They attend meetings and deal with major issues concerning the students.

DRAMA CLUB

This club is for students who wish to gain experience in the theatre arts. In addition to acting, members participate in stage make-up skills, lighting, and set production. The club generally produces a fall and a spring play and enters a one act play in the New England Drama Festival.

THE INTERNATIO- NAL THESPIAN SOCIETY

THE FUTURE NURSES CLUB

The nurses club is one for students who are interested in a future in the medical field. Under the supervision of the advisor, Mrs. Chadbourne, the club meets once a month and makes visits to local hospitals with nursing schools.

SENIOR GIRLS "GLUTTON GUILD"

The Senior Girls' Glutton Guild is an anonymous club, designed around the psychological and physical aspects of the female senior glutton. The purpose of the club is to create a guilt-free atmosphere about school where overindulging is concerned. Meetings of different sizes occur as many as three times during the course of the day in various dark corridors and inconspicuous nooks around the building. Activities include excursions to the Quincy Market Pastry Shops and several restaurants outside a 30-mile radius of Scituate. Classes including "Variations of Cheesecakes" and "The Anatomy of the Whoopie Pie" are given along with lectures on "The Insignificance of the Calorie" by club members. The club founder, Ms. Cell U. Lite, sponsors the weekly pig roast. Membership is strictly confidential and is based on consumption potential.

THE CONCERT CHORUS

The Concert Chorus is a singing group of students from all grades. They meet daily during school and receive credits for their work. The chorus performs at school functions, town functions, as well as in special winter and spring concerts.

"I don't care what you do — not tonight!"

Sprout and the Jolly Green Janet.

Wind-up Doll — $19.95 plus tax.

"Come on, Let's!, Everybody else is doing it!"

"What a boring office party, no wine, no women, no song."

"Was it my breath?"

"I would, but she is just not my type."

He found the wine, he found the women . . . in this case, two out of three isn't bad.

JUNIOR VARIETY SHOW — MARCH 17, 1977

"I don't believe we're charging people to see this."

Don't they make a beautiful pair?

"We're more at home in the swamp."

We know who she's cheering for.

"But she's nice."

Thinking of getting stroked?

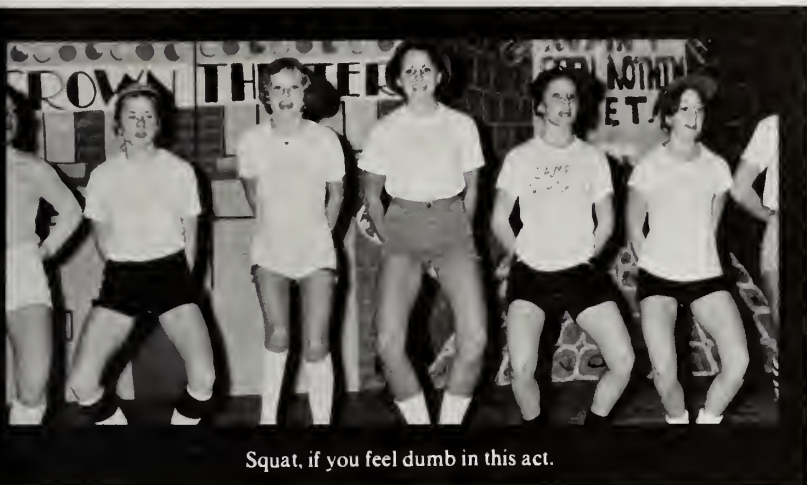

"Delicious!"

"My husband. I think I'll keep him."

MARCH 18, 1977—YOU AIN'T SEEN NOTHIN' YET

Squat, if you feel dumb in this act.

"Either it's foggy out or make that 12 hard-boiled eggs."

Why that's a horse of a different color.

Let's belly bump!

Full Flight . . . but can they sing?

You don't fool us, they're just giant kazoos.

Excuse Mo, she's always flipped out.

Class of '78 — Thanks for the memories.

JUNIOR PROM—APRIL 21, 1977—KNIGHTS IN WHITE SATIN

Mother Nature

Simon says, "Look to the right."

Party time!

A knight in white satin and no shoes.

And it's only just begun.

Evil thoughts . . .

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS SHARE FLOAT WIN

Seniors . . . so much for class float

Seniors . . . so much for class spirit.

It brings back memories of Mary B's gym class.

Cleaning up after biting the dust.

I'm all shook up.

And they said Scituate was a small town.

We know who played.

Frankly Freshman, you just don't cut it.

POLICE-COMMUNITY RELATIONS PROGRAM

In January of 1977, Mr. Edward Kelly of the Social Studies department and Sgt. Walter Driscoll of the Scituate Police Department began a Police-Community Relations program here at Scituate High. The purpose of the program was to enable students to deal with a police officer in a classroom situation so that they might share opinions and problems. Any topic could be discussed and all problems explored.

Role playing was used to show how the students felt about the police in various situations, and as a result, the nightsticks carried by the police were removed from the foot patrol and confined to the cars.

Sgt. Driscoll also works with the elementary and intermediate students where safety is the major topic. The students in these first classes were responsible for the showing of the movie, "Mechanized Death," to the entire school population just before the April vacation. The results seemed to be positive in that there was not one major or minor accident involving a Scituate student through the graduation period.

A field trip was taken to the Norfolk County Superior Court and the House of Correction at the invitation of Sheriff Clifford Marshall. The trip showed the students exactly what occurred in court, and, of course, the tour of the jail showed what happened to those who were sentenced in that court.

Finally, the groundwork has been laid for far more intensive participation on the part of the students through Community Service involvement.

ASK ANNE

PARENTS NOT PREPARED FOR GRADUATION

Dear Anne:

I've been reading your column since I was knee-high to a grasshopper. This is my first letter and it is a plea for help.

My son is graduating from high school this June, and Anne, you'd never know he was a member of this family. For the past four years, he's been in and out (mostly out) participating in all sorts of these extracurricular activities.

I'll start off with freshman year. No sooner did I get him off to school at, yes, 7:00 in the morning, than he was home for lunch and soapies at 12:30. Before I knew it, he was out nights working in some girl's garage on a float, and there weren't even class advisors present. The effort was worth it; they won first place in the float contest. That is, if you can call a mass of crepe paper resembling a man with his pants down saying, "We'll tan their hides," an effort. By June, he had class advisors to collect this so-called class dues he'd expect his father to shell out every month.

That was just the beginning. What I remember most about his Sophomore year was this Moonlight Cruise we allowed him to go on. I couldn't understand why he demanded to be dropped off at this recreation area, Teke Sherman Park, beforehand. Come to think of it, he attended a roller skating party that year. I spent that entire night worrying that his paralyzation was permanent. This was the year I discovered mothers came in handy every so often, like at car washes and in the kitchen the night before a bake sale.

No, I'm not through yet. Junior year was a hectic one, and the gap between Junior and the family was widening. I was as excited as he was when he got his first real paycheck. But as his paychecks got larger and larger, there seemed to be more ways to spend the hard-earned money. In the fall it was on spirit links, in the winter it was on dances and the Valentine corsages, (yes, they even sell them in school), and props for the Variety Show, then in the spring it was on the prom. The Variety Show, "You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet," was entertaining, after all that time they spent rehearsing. It finally dawned on me that Junior was no longer a little boy when I saw him wearing a tuxedo for the first time. From what I gather, the prom, "Knights in White Satin," at Blue Hills Country Club was nothing compared to the next day spent picnicking at College Pond, or was it Plymouth Beach? Anyway, the year ended on a sour note as he got the results back from his SATs.

Anne, nothing compares to Senior year. I see Junior so little. Now it's his job compounded with dates with his girlfriend, parties all over town, (he won't have one in his own house), float meetings, and college visits. What little time he does spend at home is for the sole purpose of filling out college applications. It took the worst blizzard of the century to keep him in the house for a day. He spends a lot of his money too, when he should be saving for college. Now it's class dues, tee-shirts, Christmas presents, more SATs, Senior portraits, caps and gowns, a class ring, car insurance, college applications, and a Senior class dinner dance. Now it's graduation time. He complains about the tiresome rehearsals and his anxiety to get "Outta' here."

Looks like everything is set for next year as far as Junior is concerned. I just wish I could say the same for me. The past four years have flown by. The problem is that I'm realizing that Junior is changing, growing up. Next year he won't even be living at home. Anne, is it natural for me, as a parent, to want him to stay a little bit longer, to stay the same? Is it natural for me to feel that as I let go of Junior, I'm letting go of a part of myself??

Already Missing in Scituate
Dear Missing,
Yes.

Toys

Kitchy-kitchy-koo

What time is it
when an elephant
sits on a fence?
Time to get a new fence.

High Chairs

Remember?

GIRLS WILL BE GIRLS

Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each year, the code letters are different. The Key is in this book.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Class Adv. Ms. Bersani and Mr. Pisano, Treas. Sean Flaherty, Sec. Edith Shillue, V.P. Ann Doyle, Pres. David Gluck.

"And I thought English was dull."

"Are you sure we've got the right car??"

"I'm so happy! They're having pizza for lunch."

"I sat on a tack."

"OH VERY YOUNG,
WHAT WILL YOU
LEAVE US
THIS TIME?"

"Me and my R.C."

"You think my teeth are wild, I've got rings on my fingers — and bells on my toes."
"I hope this is my best side."

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Class Adv. Ms. Reddy and Mr. Osgood, Sec. Sally O'Hara, Pres. Nancy Talcott, Treas. Tracey Madden, V.P. Jane Ohrenburger.

"I never thought I'd fall in love with my teacher."

The most interesting hall in the building.

Christine, candidate for Crest ad.

This year the sophomores had a contest for parting their hair down the middle.

"INEXPERI-ENCED — IT
ONCE HAD CURSED ME —
BUT DON'T GET DOWN ON YOUTH; IT'S WHAT MAKES YOU
'THIRSTY'."

"I won."

"I couldn't even find mine."

"I judged."

JUNIOR CLASS

Class Adv. Mr. Sheehan and Mrs. Becker, V.P. Becky Cilento, Pres. Suzette Macdonald, Treas. Mary Lou Keefe, Sec. Tracy Hall (not present).

"Ahh . . ."

"I don't care if it's the second story; I've got to get out."

"Gee, he's cute."

"WE WERE THE CHILDREN OF YESTER- DAY"

"After you're done with the funnies pass it over; I've just got to read 'Ask Beth'."

"Leave me alone . . . I didn't eat my wheaties."

"I ate mine."

And it only took 2 cans of Alberto VO-5.

MOMENTS IN FIELD HOCKEY

"Where's Bev?"

"She got cropped out."

"Did I swallow my mouthpiece, or a bug?"

"Ready or not, here I come!"

Someone who nose her game

I didn't know they wore THAT under their skirts!

Put your left foot in, put your left foot out

"Let's start a bunny hop.

"I always wanted to be a Rockette."

It's so lonely at the Scituate goal, you have to dance with the worms.

I'm gonna book these guys on Community Auditions.

May I cut in?

Would you care to dance the Itu Shuffle?

MOMENTS IN CROSS COUNTRY

"What do you mean I lost?"

Chet the Jet

"More, More, Mohr."

"Please, no more autographs."

MOMENTS IN BASKETBALL

Sophomore Fly Swatter

"Down by 23 with two minutes to go. I KNOW we can do it!"

"The closer we get, the better we look."

"We blew it again!"

"I'll huff and I'll puff . . ."

Who is that masked girl?

"Well, take THAT!"

Pick on someone your own size!

MOMENTS IN GYMNASTICS

"When you've got one leg, you better have good balance."

"I'm going to fly like an eagle."

"I hope my landing gear is intact."

Coach . . . with the entire team.
